

NATURE TECH

EXPO 2024

Event • 25th June 2024

Aspire • Leeds City Centre • UK

Exhibition & sponsorship opportunities

Join environmental professionals and technology developers in this exploration of the role of digital technologies and big data in accelerating nature recovery across England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland - and beyond.

Nature Tech 2024 is a brand new learning and networking opportunity for:

- Consultants and infrastructure providers looking for technologies that will enable them to deliver services more effectively.
- Public agencies and governments seeking effective ways to fulfil nature recovery targets.
- Developers of land-based, coastal and marine environmental initiatives.
- Local government staff tasked with delivering nature recovery.
- Digital technology innovators who are looking to play their part in nature recovery.

We anticipate at 150+ delegates.

Make sure your organisation's capabilities are visible at Nature Tech 2024

Showcase your expertise in areas such as: mapping, visualisation, measurement, data processing, reporting, nature finance, gamification and virtual reality. See overleaf for the benefits on offer to sponsors and exhibitors.

Nature Tech 2024 will feature leading speakers, panel discussions and workshops, alongside our exhibitors. We aim to demonstrate how Nature Tech is:

- Enabling project developers to model and measure nature-based solutions and nature recovery at scale across land and water habitats.
- Enabling organisations to measure their nature risks and dependencies and embed nature into their business models.
- Enabling private funders and investors to measure and report on their positive impact.
- Enabling public engagement through citizen science, VR and gaming.

Nature Tech 2024 is brought to you by EKN, an award-winning forum that brings together over 3,500 professionals with a vital role in harnessing the value of the natural environment for everyone's well-being and prosperity. EKN is a social enterprise and registered charity.

EKN has a strong track record in organising large conferences involving leading names, including our annual Nature Finance UK Conference (now in its seventh year).

Showcase your role in Nature Tech helping nature recovery in the UK and beyond

Sponsorship – Raise your organisation’s profile before and during the event. Your organisation will be positioned at heart of nature recovery and in advancing the role of digital technologies and big data in this. You will have the opportunity to invite colleagues, clients and contacts to the event as part of your package.

Exhibitor – Build your organisation’s brand and raise awareness of your expertise, products and services. Connect with a highly engaged group of delegates.
